

Welcome to the ICE Website!

I want to join ICE teams I am interested in and receive information – what do I need to do?

- To receive general broadcast e-mails from ICE as well as those specific to teams of interest (you can view available teams on the “Teams” tab of the website), you need to create a profile in the ICE database by clicking on the “Join ICE” button on the website home page.

Are there membership fees to Join ICE?

- Membership fees are not required to participate in ICE. However, ICE relies on and requests annual tax-deductible charitable contributions from industry organizations to finance the annual operating budget and further its educational objectives. Contribution guidelines can be found in the ICE Participation Guidelines at: <http://www.iceforhealth.org/library.asp?sf=&scid=1152#scid1152>

How do I easily find information of interest to me?

- Once you create a profile and choose teams of interest, any time you log into your account you will be taken to the MyICE content summary page, which displays your teams, related upcoming events, broadcasts, library categories and recently posted documents specific to your selected teams.

How do I update my password or contact information?

- These menu options can be found on your MyICE content summary page once you have logged into your ICE database account.

How do I navigate the website library?

- There are 3 brief tutorial videos (less than 5 minutes total viewing time) available on the ICE website at the link below that provide an overview of how to navigate the ICE website library: <https://www.iceforhealth.org/librarytutorial.asp>

Does ICE offer online training opportunities?

- ICE offers several online training modules, some at no cost and some with a nominal fee. There are also modules available that offer continuing education opportunities. These can be found under the “Training” menu option on your MyICE content summary page once you have logged into your ICE database account.
